historical, sightseeing and cultural tour

An exceptional tour to one of the places least popular with tourists in the world. Despite their negative opinion, a tour to countries located within the hot Horn of Africa are possible and, when appropriate procedures are adhered to – also safe. What can be seen for two days in Mogadishu will remain in memory for a long time – the city is now being rebuilt and its inhabitants have hope for a better future. It will be a visit in an extraordinary city which is the capital of Somalia. In the past, it used to be called the “Pear of the Indian Ocean” and was famous for its broad beaches, excellent cuisine and interesting architecture. Over the last 30 years, the city declined into ruins but for several years the situation has systematically improved and travelling to Somalia is possible – with the appropriate safety precautions. The city that we will see during our expedition may prove different from the images generally presented to us by the media. We will be able to form our own opinions.
